WINES FROM PATAGONIA

Welcome to Familia Schroeder

The dream of a family of pioneers became real when the project of building a state-of-the-art facility to produce the best wines of Patagonia was completed.

In 2001, Hermann Schroeder, the son of this German immigrant, gave start to the project involving his sons, who are currently conducting it.

Hard work and significant investment transformed the monotony of the Patagonian dry steppe into an eye-catching oasis.

History of the discovery of the dinosaur

During the construction of the winery's building, fossilized bones of a large herbivorous dinosaur were unearthed.

A specially designed cellar houses the original bones in the exact place they were discovered. After several years of study, the paleontologists concluded that the fossils belonged to a new species, found so far, so the dinosaur received a new name: PANAMERICANSAURUS SCHROEDERI, in recognition of the family contribution to the excavation works.

This surprising finding was what led the Schroeder Family to baptize their first line of wines and their restaurant as "Saurus".

WINES FROM PATAGONIA

Alpataco, is an indigenous Bush that symbolizes the tenacity of life in the Patagonian steppe. The natural low yields of the vineyard and a careful winemaking produce fresh and delicate wines that with minimal intervention during the winemaking genuinely express the typicity of the varietal.

As a statement of excellence, Familia Schroeder's premium line is made from the very best blocks of the vineyard. Only the best barrels of each vintage are picked for these special wines of limited production. With extremely low yields, the grapes are hand harvested in 18kg boxes.

After a thorough manual selection of bunches and berries and a careful winemaking, the wine is aged 18 months in new French oak barrels.

Saurus Pinot Noir Tardío

FAMILIA
SCHROEDER
WINES FROM PATAGONIA

The grapes for Saurus Pinot Noir tardío (late harvest) had concentrated and raisined in the sun to create sufficient ripeness for a naturally sweet wine. Red-purple hues in the glass, the wine has a floral aroma of violets, combined with red fruits such as plums and cherries on the nose. The palate is sweet and soft with opulent dark chocolate notes and a velvety mouthfeel. Well structured with very fine and sweet tannins and a balanced acidity.

WINES FROM PATAGONIA

Natural sweet Torrontes based sparkling. Deseado is the result of a single fermentation interrupted by cooling when 8.5% alcohol is reached. The sweetness of the residual sugar is balanced by a firm acidity. Delightfully fresh and fragrant, is the ideal paring for creamy blue cheese, desserts or just to be enjoyed on its own.
